“When I was younger, I could never understand the pressure to get married because “it was time to”. I didn’t “feel ready” and always thought I will find someone when I was, and things will just fall into place. But I couldn’t be more wrong. I got so busy, with my job and building a career, that time just flew by. Before I knew it, I felt as though something very important was missing in my life. Yes, I had good friends but that didn’t fill the vacuum in my life. Over time, most of them got married and I felt even more alone and wished I had that “someone special” in my life too. I often asked myself was there anyone for me? Everyone my age was already married, when would it be me? I had all these dreams that I wanted to share with someone special. Was that too much to ask for? One can be in the best place in the world, but if one is alone it means nothing. And then it all changed...”

Anuradha Gupta
CEO, Vows for Eternity

FIND YOUR BETTER HALF

Vows for Eternity is an ultra-premium, personalised and confidential global matchmaking search firm that brings life partners together on the basis of mindsets, values and personalities. Headquartered in New York City, Vows for Eternity has an established presence in Mumbai, Delhi and London. The members, usually in the age group of 21-65 years, are affluent, well educated, upwardly mobile global individuals who are seriously looking to get married. They are based across the world with the largest number of members from US and India, besides a smaller number in Europe and Asia. What truly binds them together is the fact that whilst they are successful, well-travelled, progressive thinking, cosmopolitan in their outlook and belong to extremely cultured families, they are missing that one special person to share their life with, to make it even more meaningful.

Anuradha Gupta, CEO of Vows for Eternity, lives in Manhattan, New York but having also lived in Los Angeles, London, Melbourne and Delhi brings not only years of matchmaking experience, but also a global perspective whilst being strongly rooted to her Indian values. Anuradha started Vows for Eternity years ago based on her own experience of looking for a life partner. She recognises that people are looking for a partner who will also become their soulmate and confidante - a rare combination that is difficult and unique to find and that is why Vows for Eternity aims at providing a global outreach whilst still maintaining a very personalised and confidential approach. The focus is quality over quantity with a strong eligibility criteria that needs to be met in order to qualify to become a member.

Anuradha strongly believes that a strong marriage is built on four pillars - friendship, trust, respect and loyalty. As people are delaying getting married, the personality fit and the connect of values between two people and their families has become even more important and difficult. She does not work with biodatas as people are so much more than what can be conveyed on paper. Instead, the focus is on engaging with members to better understand their personalities, their childhood, life experiences and family background.

Vows for Eternity has three membership options: Privilege Suite is the signature bespoke service where members are industrialists, celebrities and very senior professionals. The second is the Premium membership which is designed for individuals who are extremely driven and accomplished, which can be those entirely self-made or those born with a silver spoon. The third option is the Silver Lining membership which is specifically for people above the age of 55.

From The President's Desk

Our Dassehra MHCL JIO Garba/Dandiya night sponsored by Reliance Industries Limited/JIO at The Taj Mahal Palace hotel, has been one of the most popular events during the last few months and was well attended by approximately 1200 members. The Club's management ensured that members were accommodated due to soaring demand of passes.

This was only possible due the immense contribution of time by some of the past Presidents, current office bearers, managing committee members and the management staff.

God helps those who help themselves and it was a difficult task to satisfy our members and the sponsors within the available constraints and was achieved.

On the administration front the service levels are improving, the swimming pool remains a concern and active efforts are on going for the desired results.

The DJ Mash Up Nights continue to be a well-attended. The sports tournaments within the Club should be starting soon.

Whilst we always to touch the sky and aim for the Moon, we must realise that our feet must always be on the ground. Hence, though we aim for ther best in everything for us, the members and the Club, we need to be 'real' in some matters.

With this I wish you a Very Happy Deepavali and a Very Prosperous New Year and hope you continue to enjoy your 'Home Away from Home' with friends and family.

Warm regards
Dr Mital Chokshi,
President,
Malabar Hill Club.

Greetings to all my Dear Members!

The 71st AGM was well attended by the members and several matters in regard to current and future plans were discussed at length. We have re-emphasised to our members to come forward with constructive criticism for the betterment of the Club.

A standing ovation was given to one of our beloved past President Mr.Ratan Karanjia who retired from the Executive Committee.

We thank the members for re-electing some of us on the Executive Committee and welcome the new entrant Mr. Samir Unadkat on the same. I thank the members of the MHCL for re-electing me as the President for the year 2018-2019 and will continue to strive for betterment of the members and the Club.

Our Goddess Durgadevi has come to our rescue. The burning of the Ravana has led to burning of our woes; oil prices are now reducing, the US dollar is stabilising, and the stock markets consolidating! We are all now getting excited about future festivities of Diwali and then Christmas.

In Santa's Village

Up north, in the hills of Ounasvaara and Korkalovaara, at the confluence of the river Kemijoki and its tributary the Ounasjoki is situated the quaint little town of Rovaniemi, a rather unheard of name. However, the place becomes instantly intriguing when one comes to know that it is supposed to be the official residence of the beloved Santa Claus. Rovaniemi serves as a perfect base for planning activities when in Finnish Lapland—from witnessing Northern Lights and the mid-night Sun to husky-rides and trekking in the snow-filled forests—and is a tourist's delight all year round.

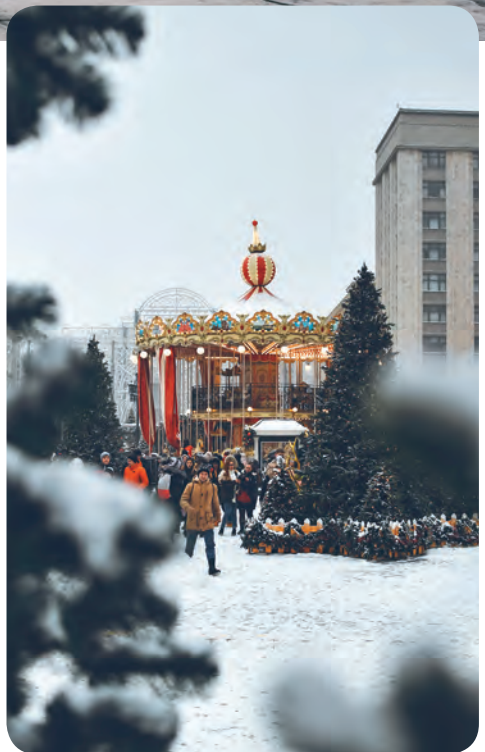

By Ashutosh Gotad

Rovaniemi, is a town in northern Finland, just six kilometres south of Arctic Circle and experiences a subarctic climate with pleasant, short summers and cold and snowy, long winters. There is very little sunshine during winters; however, the climate is not as extreme as one would expect for such a location. This makes the place favourable for tourists. Some of the popular indulgences here are:

VISITING ARKTIKUM

This is one of the best museums in Finland—it has a beautifully designed glass tunnel that stretches out to the Ounasjoki. One half of it exhibits information on Sámi culture and the history of Rovaniemi whereas the other presents a wide-ranging display on the Arctic. Static and interactive displays on the flora and fauna as well as people of Arctic Europe, Asia and North America only add to the charm of this place.

SANTA PARK

Being his hometown, Santa Claus is all across Rovaniemi. An example of this is the Christmas-themed amusement park Santapark, built inside a cavern in a mountain. It features a group of elves baking gingerbread, a magic sleigh ride, a carousel, an ice bar, a theatre, a restaurant, and Santa himself. There is also a gallery of ice sculptures.

SNOWSHOE TOUR

When we think about treks, what first comes to mind is a small dirt road, surrounded by greenery on both sides, and of course, the occasional, burbling stream of glistening water we encounter. However, treks in the Arctic are different—you have to plough your way through knee-deep snow in the forest which gets dark as you find your way through the famous Lapland pines. You need not worry though, as you get to wear snowshoes—being used in this region for centuries—and the dry, but clean, fresh air is quite relaxing, making the trek a fun-filled experience. Add to this the sweet buns and hot chocolate drink offered during break and you would want to come again and again!

WATCH NORTHERN LIGHTS

For most people, witnessing Northern Lights (Aurora Borealis) is a once-in-a-lifetime experience, simply because, as the name suggests, the phenomenon occurs only near the North Pole. These dancing, bright lights in shades of green take over the entire night sky when charged particles released from the Sun's radiation collide with gaseous particles in the Earth's atmosphere near the North Pole. This effect is attributed to the Earth's magnetic field too. This occurrence usually takes place from August all the way till April in Finnish Lapland, and winter is one of the best times to visit for a fantastic display of the aurora. Many guided tours start off from Rovaniemi and this is a must-do when here.

GO ICE-FLOATING

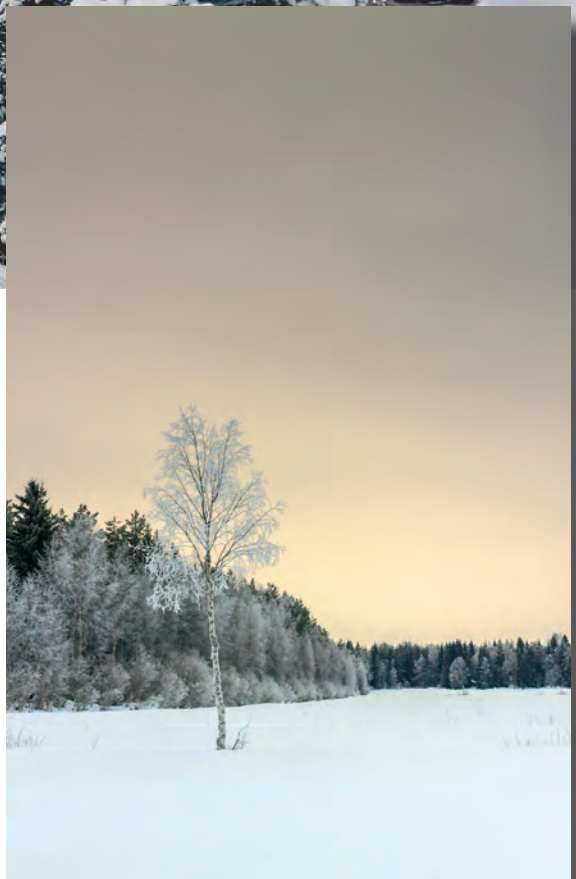

Another recommended thing-to-do in Rovaniemi that promises a unique experience is ice-floating. All you have to do is conjure the nerve to dip yourself in a frozen lake, while the stars in the night sky shine bright upon you! Sure enough you are provided with suitable clothing to keep thyself warm, hot drinks, and English speaking tour guides to keep your spirits high in the Arctic wilderness. If luck is in favour, you will also get to see Northern Lights while lying on the ice.

MIDNIGHT SUN-GAZING

Though, the phenomenon midnight sun lasts in Rovaniemi for a month, tentatively between 6th June to 7th July, it should find a mention in a feature on Rovaniemi written any time of the year, since this is one of the few places on Earth that one would get to see the Sun at night. This event can be viewed in many ways—hiking on hilltops, boating in a river, sitting around a campfire—all under the guidance of hired experts, who generally possess in-depth information that adds value to one's experience.

“For most people, witnessing Northern Lights is a once-in-a-lifetime experience, simply because, as the name suggests, the phenomenon occurs only near the North Pole.”

Some other activities popular with tourists are husky safari through the snowy forests, reindeer safari through the panoramic countryside, off-road biking, and a visit to Ranua Wildlife Park.

FLAVOURS OF THE ARCTIC

Since it has rapidly gained popularity with tourists, Rovaniemi has developed a rich restaurant scene, and combined with the food culture of this place, one gets to taste exquisite local as well as global flavours.

Freshwater fish is one of the staples of Lapland, and being situated at the convergence of two rivers, the Ounasjoki and the Kemijoki, Rovaniemi has had a long tradition of fishing and related activities. Many restaurants make a delightful job of cooking up dishes of salmon, trout, pike-perch, whitefish, arctic char, grayling and vendace. The iconic Lapland salmon soup, is ubiquitous to most culinary menus.

Many locals go berry-picking in the forests and on the bogs from late July until September. Bilberry (northern blueberry), lingonberry and cranberry are desired catches and are healthy to eat too. However, the cloudberry is considered the jewel of the crown. Apart from eating them fresh, these can be used to make juices, jams, sauces, and even liqueur. Potato dishes are very common all across Lapland; however, the place also has unique variety, the oval-shaped almond potato. A must-eat during a visit to Rovaniemi is leipäjuusto, a bread cheese dessert. It is soft, fried cheese served with fresh cloudberries or cloudberry jam. Another local staple is soft barley flatbread called rieska, usually enjoyed with butter. Several types of sweet pastries are also characteristic to Lapland, one of the most recognisable being the kampanisu.

HOW TO REACH

Rovaniemi is not a major town, so one cannot expect it to be connected by direct flights to other cities in the world. However, many flights from India will take you to Helsinki, the capital of Finland, from where many direct flights are available for Rovaniemi. The country's national railway company VR operates many trains to Rovaniemi and many long-distance buses ply to this town too.
